Amusement Park Certification

A Product Information Sheet by the Lifts and Machinery / Amusement Industry B.A.

Rides in amusement parks must satisfy the requirements of DIN 4112, and in future those of the EN 13814 standard. Product or service certification means a „certifier“ assesses and confirms that a product or service complies with the requirements set forth in a standard or other normative document.

Our services

As a testing, inspection and certification body recognised throughout the EU, TÜV SÜD Industrie Service GmbH offers amusement park operators a comprehensive certification programme in two stages.

1. Certification of individual rides

This type of certification is similar to the procedure for obtaining a German permit. Should this type of procedure prove unsuitable for old or small amusement rides, substitute measures equal to those defined in the „conventional log-book procedure“ will be defined.

2. Amusement park certification

Prerequisite is that at least 80 % of all amusement rides have been individually certified. In this stage of certification, all relationships and processes applying to the amusement park as a whole will be assessed, with the focus being on the guidelines governing amusement ride operation.

Keywords in this context are:

- Emergency management
- Human resources management
- Maintenance, inspection
- Third-party inspection
- Amusement park information system
- Special events
- Complaint management

Your benefits

A host of good reasons speak in favour of TÜV SÜD certification – and there are unique benefits to be gained:

Internal relationship

Reassessment and revision of internal processes and organisation result in process improvement and higher safety levels.

External relationship

Certification is a measure that builds up customer trust and distinguishes you from your competitors.

Legal certainty

In case of damage events, the certification of your amusement rides or entire amusement park helps you document and prove that such damage has not resulted from any failure on your part to exercise your duty of care.

Maximum acceptance

As the name TÜV SÜD is widely known and enjoys an excellent reputation, you can rest assured that our reports and certificates will be widely accepted. As an amusement park operator, you face increasing national and international competition with other amusement parks. Your customers expect fun, and nothing but fun. By having your rides and/or your entire park certified, you go the extra mile to ensure their expectations are fulfilled.

Don't hesitate to contact us. We will be pleased to explain the possibilities involved in cooperation and prepare a free quotation without any obligation on your part.
